

Formal Requirement List:

Front page having three different categories (where I have been: NZ, Italy, Africa). I will choose one image to use on the front page for these categories so people will be tempted to click on the best photo. When they do, it will open up all of my photographs from that trip. I want the layout to be off centered and not aligned so it's not boring but it still looks clean and professional. I would also like to have a button at the bottom of the page to navigate the user to my next trip (page).

In my films page, I want to showcase different videos from the trips I went on. It would be cool to have them playing a short preview of it before someone clicks on it.

My prints page would redirect the users to another website which will sell my photographs.

The last page would have my contact information and a short bio of my business.

At the bottom of every page will have different social media icons so users can click on it and it gets redirected to my photography social media sites.
